Nothing contained within these guidelines should replace your common sense ability to adapt and react to an ever-changing situation and the specific threat presented. The elements of this situational awareness material are intended as suggested actions. Only follow these actions if safe to do so.